Getting Ready for Yukon.

The Country Being Scoured for Dogs—Activity at Edmonton.

One of the centres of the Yukon gold fever is Selkirk. Large numbers of dogs are being purchased and trained there for parties organizing in the south and west.
Agents have been sent away north on Lake Winnipeg among the Indians to buy up all the canines they can find, no matter what their breed, age or condition. A good dog for train purposes will fetch $35 at the fish town to-day. Dogs are being shipped to Vancouver and Edmonton almost every day.

At Edmonton a large number of gold seekers have assembled in order to make an early start for the north. Quite a number of them live in tents in order to inure themselves to the hardships they expect to encounter on the road.
The day time they devote to training dogs, and the evening to drinking champagne, so it is said, consequently the erstwhile quiet community is experiencing a phase of life entirely new in its history.
The merchants are enjoying a good trade from the outfitting business.
The parties now there will be largely augmented in January and February.—Free Press.

Oh, The Torment

And Distress When the Skin is on Fire With Disease.

All the stinging, aggravating, burning and itching accompaniments to the dozen or more skin diseases which haunt humanity are allayed like magic by the use of Dr Agnew's Ointment. One application relieves psoriasis, eczema, salt rheum, itch, tetter, ringworm in a trice. Never fails to cure.

Sold by Henderson & Parker.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mr. E. W. Brine, of Fort Qu'Appelle.

Citizens of this place were shocked to hear of the death of Mr. E. W.
Brine, of Fort Qu'Appelle, which occurred on New Year's day at about 12:10 o'clock. The deceased had been stricken with apoplexy while on the street on Thursday previous. He was taken to the hotel and medical aid summoned.
He regained consciousness, and hopes were entertained of his recovery, but on Friday he became unconscious again and never rallied.
The funeral on Monday was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Winters, of the Church of England. Many friends from Qu'Appelle Station, Indian Head and elsewhere attending to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased, whose remains they followed to the Fort cemetery.

Mr. Brine was born at Abergaveny, Wales, Jan. 20, 1860, and was consequently only 37 years of age at the time of his death. He afterwards went to live at Wimborne, Dorsetshire, Eng., but afterwards returned to his native place.
He came to this country in 1881 and settled at Riding Mountain.
At the outbreak of the rebellion in 1885, he joined Boulton's scouts, for which he received a medal, and on his return from the rebellion he joined the H. B. Co. for two years.
From 1887 to 1892 he was in partnership with Mr. D. H. McDonald, now M.L.A., in the banking business, and from 1893 until shortly before his death, was in partnership with Mr. C. Fetherstonhaugh, Fort Qu'Appelle, in the lively business. He was an ardent cricketer and was the prime mover in starting the boating club at the Fort.
For three years he was a member of the town council, being chairman the last year. He has no relatives in this country as far as known, but his mother is said to be living in Wales. Mr. Brine was a gentleman of superior ability and education, a kind and generous man and a friend to everyone. His many friends in the Northwest will regret to hear of his sudden death. He is said to have been possessed of considerable property and carried a life insurance, all of which will no doubt go to his mother or nearest surviving relative.

Springbrook Sayings.

(From our own correspondent.)

Old '97 left us with a smiling, pleasant countenance, self-conscious no doubt that he had been a year of blessing and benediction; a year of pleasure and plenty; a year of rich harvests and many happy homes. Young '98 has been ushered in to us with all his vast possibilities hid as it were behind a veil; so far his image appears to be a reflection of the closing days of his worthy predecessor. The festive season, with its many good wishes and happy faces has again passed over us. St. Nicholas, with his reindeer eight visited us as usual, but not on Xmas eve. He some way or other received telegraphic message that Springbrook would take her good things on Tuesday evening, 28th. On this night he made his appearance, large as life, and played his part as only the old Saint can, dispensing his many presents with a liberal hand.
The Christmas tree was held on the 28th. Weather being all that could be desired, a large crowd turned out. Through the kindness of Mr. A. McDonald, of the Fort, we obtained an evergreen, which drew our memories back to Old Ontario with greater force. The tree was tastefully decorated, and with its cumbrous load of good things for the children, big and little, presented a fine appearance, after being lighted up with candles.

Mr. Thos. McAfee, Presbyterian missionary, filled the chair in his usual happy style. The programme was long and varied. Messrs.
Ball and Hepworth, Maple Creek, played very acceptably on the violin. Mr. Kearns, Lakesend, took the house by storm with his comic recitations. Miss Adams, of Wide Awake, also gave a fine recitation. Mr. McAfee gave us a good reading. Then Mr. Williams, of the Fort, sang one of his old time comics, in a manner which only he possesses. Local talent contributed the rest of the programme. After this tea was served by the ladies, as only the Springbrook ladies can do. The distribution of the presents was of much interest to many a young heart.
Some of our bachelors were also reminded of their lonely lot.

We were pleased to see the smiling faces of our old friends Mr.
B. H. and Miss Gertie Brown, who came to spend the New Year with their parents. We hope they will soon come to stay.

Pleased to learn that Mr. Stewart Hockley, farm instructor, Pas-qua's, has recovered from his severe attack of rheumatism.

That new play, "The bashful young man," proved not to be a farce but a reality at the Christmas tree.

School reopened on Monday under the management of our old teacher, Mr. P. O. Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Nicholls have returned from visiting friends at Virden and Grenfell.

Mr. Wm. McNaughton has left on a three months' visit to friends in Ontario.

Miss Winnie Dale is spending the week at Mrs. P. McNaughton's.

The annual school meeting will be held on Saturday, 8th inst.

Literary society meets on Friday evening, 7th.

It is expected at Ottawa, that the N. W. M. P. will be increased.

It is reported that a Chinese loan is being floated in London.

When a man who has neglected his health finally realizes that he is being attacked by serious ill-health it is no time for halfway measures.
Death is an enemy that must be knocked out in the first round, or he is pretty sure to conquer in the end.

A weak stomach, an impaired digestion and a disordered liver mean that a man is fighting the first round with death. Unless he manages to strike the knock-out blow, it means that death will come up in the second round in the guise of some serious malady. When a man's stomach is weak and his digestion is impaired, the life-giving elements of the food he takes are not assimilated into the blood. The blood gets thin and weak, and the body slowly starves. In the meantime the disordered liver and the sluggish bowels have forced into the blood all manner of impurities. The body is hungry and eagerly consumes anything that the bloodstream carries to it. In place of healthy nutrition, it receives for food foul poisons that should have been excreted by the bowels. Continued, this system of starvation combined with poisoning, will wreck every organ in the body. Naturally, the weakest organ will give way first. If a man is naturally nervous, he will break down with nervous exhaustion or prostration. If he inherits weak lungs, the consequence will be consumption, bronchitis, asthma, or some disease of the air-passages.
If he has a naturally sluggish liver, he will suffer from a serious bilious or malarial attack. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all disorders of the stomach, digestion and liver. It purifies the blood and fills it with the life-giving elements of the food that build new and healthy tissue. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder and nerve tonic. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. Thousands have testified to their recovery from this dread disease under this great medicine.

THURSDAY, JAN. 6 1898.

There are now two petitions before the ratepayers for exemption from taxes, namely, the felt factory and the mill. It seems one or two parties are negotiating for the purchase of the mill, and are willing to run it if the council will grant them ten years exemption from municipal and school taxes. Various opinions are expressed pro and con regarding these exemptions, but the majority of ratepayers seem willing to grant them. Regarding the felt business, we feel assured it will prove of great benefit to Qu'- Appelle, and no doubt the mill would also prove beneficial. Anything that tends to bring labor to a town will benefit not only the merchant but the farmer as well, as it creates a market by creating greater home consumption. Neither these industries ask for a bonus, and we think it is to everyone's advantage to remove stumbling blocks from the way of legitimate enterprise.

Ontario is asking for the establishment of a divorce court in that province. Presuming that the divorces should be granted at all, the request does not seem an unreasonable one. It is conceded that the

DR CHASE'S OINTMENT

FOR ALL
Itching, Torturing, Distressing, Disfiguring
Skin Diseases,
there is nothing gives such quick relief and promotes such rapid healing as this wonderful Ointment.

GEO. LEE, MANSFIELD, ONT., says he was troubled with Eczema on the hands so bad that he could not work. He had doctors treating him, and tried all the remedies he heard of, but of no avail. At night the itching was so severe he could not sleep. Dr. Chase's Ointment being recommended to him he tried it, and one box completely cured him. He wouldn't received.

present system of obtaining legal relief from the failure of marriage at the hands of the Senate is very absurd and expensive, and if divorce is to become a recognized institution in Canada, there should be a court accessible to the poor as well as to the rich at the same time that the rules should be so framed as to guard against any such condition of things as obtains today in many states of the union. At the present time one American marriage in every twelve ends in a divorce, and marriage is very frequently looked on as an experiment which if unpleasant can be rectified by the courts. Eighty percent of the American divorces are granted on the petition of the wife, either because it is she who feels most sorely the burden of an unhappy marriage or she prefers another (with a capital A) to her lawful husband; who is under the circumstances only too willing to plead guilty to some fictitious charge.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has recently forbidden his clergy to remarry divorced people, and as a consequence divorce even in England is on the decline. If we are to have it in Canada, by all means let us have it "as they have it in England"—not in America.—Revelstoke Herald.

HAS STRONGLY INFLUENCED THE COMMONS

It is a fact worthy of record that at least fifty members of the House of Commons are able personally to bear united and convincing testimony to the good effects of Dr.
Agnew's Catarrhal Powder in case of cold in the head or catarrh in its severe and different shapes. These members have recorded the testimony of members representing constituencies in every corner of the Dominion.
At this writing we have before us the words of Mr. Arthur A. Bruhan, M. P., of Richelieu, Que., and Hugo H. Ross, M. P., of Dundas, who join with their other members in telling what this remedy has done for them in cases of catarrhal trouble. At the present time, when so many are suffering from influenza in the head it is a friend indeed.

Buy Goods in Your Own Town.

People are more or less tempted at times to leave their own town and purchase such goods as they want for private use elsewhere.
The attractive advertisements of outsiders are with some the deciding factor, with others it is the desire to secure a pattern, quality or article different from their neighbors, with others again the motive is the saving of money. This latter may be either real or imaginary. In most cases the saving in cost is imaginary. Now, a community is prosperous in proportion to the business done by its merchants. And it is purchasers who make business. Hence if a respectable portion of the population take their money and spend it in places other than their own locality the merchants there do so much less business and the town is correspondingly less prosperous. The effects of the practice of ignoring one's own town in buying are far reaching and disastrous to the general prosperity, and the sooner the practice ceases the better it will be for every person in the long run.—Kingston Times.

THE HUDSON'S BAY RAILWAY

It, as is now reported to have been determined by official investigation Hudson's Bay is sufficiently free from ice for four months in the year to allow navigation, the project of building a railway from Winnipeg to the head of the bay and sending the grain of Western Canada to Europe is not impracticable. Compared to the American scheme of hewing out a channel in which to bring ocean vessels up an elevation of six hundred feet into the interior of the continent, the plan of building 500 miles of railway over a flat country to reach a salt water way 1,200 miles long to the Atlantic, ready made, and requiring no dredging or locks, seems easy and sensible.—Railway Age.

—The local newspaper beats the world as an advertising medium.
A hand bill attracts attention by accident. The newspaper carries your message to a waiting audience.
The fence and the barn-door "ad." is a corse that can be looked at by a few neighbors who have to go near it. The newspaper "ad" goes into the home, takes a seat in the family circle and talks right to the hearts of the many thousands of people who pay their money for that kind of entertainment. They love the family paper and read it with confidence. Nothing equals a good reaching the people. Try it and

DROPSY AND HEART-DISEASE.

A great cure and a great testimony.
"For ten years I suffered greatly from Heart Disease, Fluttering of the Heart and Smothering spells, made my life a torment.
I was confined to my bed. Dropsy set in.
My physician told me to prepare for the worst. I tried Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. One dose gave great relief, one bottle cured the Dropsy and my heart."

Literary Notes.

"Farming," an illustrated weekly journal devoted to farming and the farmer's interests, is a paper which all our readers who are keen on agriculture would do well to invest in. The paper is published every Tuesday by the Bryant Press, whose address is 20 Bay St. Toronto, Ont. Subscription $1 a year. About this paper the editor of the Weekly Star, Hastings, Ont., says: "Farming is, without exception, the best value for the money of any journal published. It is what every farmer should have and study next to his Bible, to make a success of farming."

The January number of the Delineator, called the Holiday number, contains a wealth of matter of general interest, amongst the articles being fashions and styles for young and old. We also find household articles of interest, articles on Social Observance, on Photography, on Flowers, besides stories of general interest. The Delineator Publishing Co., Ltd., 33 Richmond St. W.
Toronto.

All interested in farming are advised to take the Farmer's Advocate for 1898, if they are not already subscribers. With the January number of this paper is given the Xmas, 1897, number, and this alone is worth (so to speak) the whole subscription.
A magnificent colored plate is given with it of Mr. H. O. Smith's famous Herefords, with portraits of other prize-winning animals and farm scenes. Poems are given on the "Farmer's Jubilee," and the "Canady Farmer," the latter a humorous piece.
Amongst other contributors are Commissioner Robertson, of Ottawa, Mr. T. Deane-ness, Mr. J. R. Craig and Professor A. E.
Shutteworth. And all this in the number for Xmas, 1897. The subscription is $1 a year, which may be sent to the Farmer's Advocate, Winnipeg, Man.

A LIFE SAVER TO MANKIND is what Mr. George Benner, Warton, Ont., styles Dr. Chase's Kidney- Liver Pills.

Not that I am at all fond of having my name put in public places, but as a life saver to mankind, I hereby state what Dr.
A. W. Chase's K-L Pills did for me.
For nearly four years I was greatly troubled with Constipation and general weakness in the kidneys, and in my perilous position was strongly advised to use Chase's Pills, and to-day I can safely and truthfully state that they have saved my life.

NOTICE.

The annual meeting of the South Qu'Appelle Liberal association will be held in the town hall, Qu'Appelle, at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Jan.
15th prox. A full attendance is requested. F. J. FESSANT, Sec.
Qu'Appelle, Dec. 29, 1897.

Local and General

—Wheat, yesterday, 75c, with a tendency to still rise.

—Anyone having young cattle of any kind to sell, call and see R. Johnston.

—Mr. J. D. McAr, of the Vidette, spent New Year's in this vicinity.

—Messrs. S. R. Edwards and D. McLean, of Indian Head, were in town on Monday.

—The annual meeting of the Presbyterian Church will be held on Tuesday evening next in the Church.

—Notices are out calling a meeting for the election of a councillor on the 15th inst.

Gov. Mackintosh thinks there may be trouble with the United States regarding Yukon gold fields.

—Editor Trant's paper, "Sport," is now one of the things of the past. Lack of patronage was the cause of suspension.

—The Xmas tree entertainment in connection with the Church of England Sunday school, held last Thursday evening, was a most successful affair.

—Messrs. J. A. MacCaul of Indian Head, and E. MacCaul of Moose Jaw, spent New Year's day with their brother, J. H. MacCaul, of this place.

—Dr. C. E. Carthew returned from his trip to the Old Country and New York in time to eat his Xmas dinner at home, after an absence of about three months.

—The party who took by mistake a pair of new rubbers, after the Sunday school entertainment on Dec. 30th, is requested to leave them at this office.

—A reunion of friends of Reeve Vicars tendered him a farewell at the town hall on Monday night prior to his leaving for Ontario on a visit. Query—Will he return alone?

—A. H. Ball, B.A., late teacher at Parklands, accompanied by Mr. Hepworth, passed through last Sunday on their way to Maple Creek, where Mr. Ball has secured an engagement.

—In the private office of Chief Factor McDonald, of the H. B. Co., Fort Qu'Appelle, may be seen the beautiful skin of a dark silver grey fox. These skins are rare and are very valuable, ranging from $40 to $100, according to quality and size.

—Mr. S. Gledhill, of the C. P.R., and family, left on Tuesday morning for Seattle, where he has been transferred. Mr. and Mrs. Gledhill are accompanied by the best wishes of their many Qu'Appelle friends.

—Our Indian Head correspondent must have been misinformed regarding the sale of the Gordon hotel in Mr. S. R. Edwards, who informs us such is not the case. We hasten to correct the error and ask our correspondents to send in facts, and facts only.

—The Kootenay Guide this month contains full information about the Klondike, with map, descriptions of routes by overland and by water, distances, etc., outfits required. Young & Luxton, publishers, Calgary. Subscription, $1 a year. Single copy, 10 cents.

Constables Hoskins of Fort Qu'Appelle, and Wardey of Touchwood, came in Tuesday on their way to the Klondike. The Fort and Touchwood people were very loth to part with these two gentlemen as they had made themselves very popular. All unite in wishing them success in their new field of duty.

—The news from Montreal about the Family Herald and Weekly Star proves that that great paper is receiving a public demonstration seldom, if ever, approached in the history of Canadian journalism. The scramble to get names on the Family Herald and Weekly Star list amounts almost to a panic. The Family Herald and Weekly Star is a great paper. Its premium picture is a great picture, and the success of the paper is great in every sense, whether viewed from the point of enormous popularity or an immense subscription list.

An ordinary cough or cold may not be thought much of at the time, but neglect may mean in the end a consumptive grave. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine will cure consumption when the lungs are riddled with cavities; but it will stop the cough, will cure Consumption in the early stages, and even in its last stages gives such relief as to be a perfect God-send to those whose lives are nearing a close.

—Mr. H. B. Joyner, of the Qu'Appelle Valley flouring mills, has lately received a fine photograph of the Canadian Jubilee dinner given at Hotel Cecil, London, Eng. In it we notice a number of familiar faces from the Northwest, not least among which are Mr. Joyner himself, Mr. Proctor and Mr. Hayward, of Fort Qu'Appelle.

—Waghorn's Guide for January, 1898, is out, with the latest official time cards, containing all the recent changes in detail, also new postal service. A new mail and office card is issued to subscribers. The new express rates as reduced are shown in the tables. Attention is called to the change of day for closing of English mails via Halifax.

—We are indebted to Mr. E. I. Drewry, of the Redwood Brewery Winnipeg, for a very handsome calendar. The picture, entitled, "Lunch Time," is from the original of Basil Bradley's celebrated painting exhibited in the Royal Academy, which was purchased by Messrs. Hobbs & Sons, Eng., to whom Mr. Drewry is indebted for the handsome and realistic picture.

Mable Fear, the ten year old daughter of Joseph Fear, of Carberry, was killed in a runaway on Sunday while being driven to the Presbyterian Sunday school in company with two brothers and a sister. The brother, who was driving, a boy of about thirteen, reined the runaway horse into the deep snow to stop him, when the horse kicked Mable in the head, causing almost instant death.

—Mr. H. S. Hulme-Goodier asks us to state that he intends giving a concert here on Friday evening, Jan. 21st, when several local artists will assist. He hopes that by that time the glee club will be an established fact, for already about a dozen ladies and gentlemen have expressed their willingness to join. As before notified, will any desirous of joining kindly drop him a card at the Leland? For further particulars see last week's issue.

—A letter received from Mr. Elkington, of the firm of Joyner & Elkington, Fort Qu'Appelle, who is at present enjoying a holiday trip to Victoria, B.C., says, at the time of writing, flowers are in bloom and the windows open. This, of course, would seem like a paradise to parties living in a cold climate, but this winter British Columbia or the tropics cannot rival our Northwest for pleasant weather.

—A man by the name of John Crooks was taken to the Medicine Hat hospital last week. Crooks was working for a farmer by the name of Hunt, of Weyburn, on the Soo line, and went to get a load of hay. While away a storm came on and he was unable to see the road. He unhitched the horses and tied them to the load. The storm lasted for nearly three days. After waiting a couple of days, Hunt started out in search of him and found him where he had loaded the hay. Both feet were badly frozen and also his hand and ears.

Nurse Fatally Burned.

Salteats, Assa, Jan. 2.—Between two and three this morning, Nurse Biggins, who was on night duty at the hospital, went down to the basement, and by some as yet unexplained means the lamp was broken, and she was instantly enveloped in flames. Miss Bartlaw, the head nurse, was aroused by her screams, and succeeded in wrapping her in blankets, and so extinguished the fire, but the victim was so dreadfully burned about the body that she lies at the hospital in a most critical condition. Miss Biggins is the youngest nurse on the hospital staff, and is a daughter of Mr. J. Biggins, well known for several years as a general merchant at Whitewood.

Salteats Jan. 3.—Miss Minnie Biggins, who was so severely burned by the breaking of a lamp yesterday, died at the hospital at 4 o'clock this morning.

On New Year's day as the Rev. T. A. Teitbaum was driven from Salteats to Yorkton, he discovered on the trail a farmer Mr. James Matthews, who had been kicked on the body by one of his horses. Mr. Teitbaum rendered necessary aid, and it is to be hoped that no ill effects will follow.

VENGEANCE THAT FAILED.

Story That Shows How Hard It Is to Catch a Woman.

"I'm mad, mad clear through!" cried the girl in the greenish gown. "To think of plotting and planning for vengeance for two whole months and then failing to get it just for the supernatural coolness of your enemy!"

"Humph! I suppose you mean Evelyn," returned the girl in the red hat. "Well, I could have told you beforehand that she—"

"Perhaps you could have, but you didn't," snapped the girl in the greenish gown. "Yes, of course, it was Evelyn. You know she and Molly have been rivals in Fred's affections for a long time. They were both so awfully in love with him that a third girl with a cool head could have stepped in at any time and carried him off. You see, they were so jealous of each other that they were always together and their charms were a sort of antidote for each other."

"Well, I bet on Molly all along," said the girl in the red hat. "She always was lucky; had no younger sisters, and not only went to college, but actually possesses a nose to which eyeglasses are actually an adornment. To a look at the time she sprained her ankle; you might have thought that was a real chance, but that very day his firm sent him west for a month. And a person with a sprained ankle can write letters as well as anybody."

"Besides having a claim to long and sympathetic replies. Well, he got back a day earlier than he expected, and Evelyn, not expecting him, had come over to the south side to make some calls. Of course, Fred went right to Molly's to see how she was—and, with her usual luck, she was downstairs for the first time. He reached the house at 2 and at 3 I had a note from Molly asking my congratulations and begging me to tell Evelyn, so she and Fred could have the afternoon alone."

"A commission which you were quite willing to undertake if I knew anything about you. Well, I should think that news would have upset even Evelyn's composure. She was so sure of Fred; why, she told me—"

"Of course I was willing," broke in the girl in the greenish gown. "They told me at her house that she meant to step in at Yardstick's on her way home, and I went there to head her off from Molly's. By a happy inspiration I went right to the linen department."

"And found her there, of course. No girl who has an idea of being married can keep away from the table linens."

"She was there. When she saw me, she tried to blush, giggled, and said: 'I am just looking at these things to-day. A—girl who is to be married has her hands so full that—'"

"Yes, hasn't she? I said, as she hesitated. 'By the way, dear, speaking of that, I've just heard from Molly—she is engaged to Fred!'"

"Well, go on; go on; don't stop."

"She gave just one tiny gasp and said, severely: 'Have you just found that out? Yes, dear Molly; I'm so glad. It was for me I was looking at these linens to-day.'"

"I called last evening, Miss Josephine, but she said: 'I had better not come in.' 'Why, Mr. Detrop?'"

"Your little brother told me you were upstairs in a dark room developing negatives."—Chicago Record.

Jags—What do you think of the theory that people in the next world will continue to do what they have been doing this world?

Wags—Well, I think it would be a little rough on the man who scorches.

She—There, I have told you my secret. I promise you will tell no one, not even your wife.

He—No. My wife told me this morning not to say anything about it.—N.Y. Journal.
